“These are the specific types of evidence we want to present to the American people on the national stage and not allow local politicians to sweep it under the rug,” Miller said.

Miller said that evidence could be presented in Congress, which would differ from what the Trump campaign presented in courts over the past several weeks.

“...if everyone watching the events on Jan 6th also learns that other governments were watching the shit show go down too and saw the fraud, then people might wake up.

THIS, I believe, is what "gonna be wild" has been about since that first tweet. People everywhere were already going to tune in just to see the crowd of patriots. They're in for a much bigger show, and our proud patriots will be on the front row. Let's see how fast these electors are willing to commit treason on national television with the whole world watching.

 Could be. They have great capabilities and Trump is doing amazing peace deals in the Middle East. The best peace deals ever! Had to get that one one. Biden would support anti-Israeli efforts, so they'd have a lot of motivation to keep Trump in office. If Trump gets another term we will have Middle East Peace, 100%, for the first time in human history.

Evidence now is irrelevant. Once Special Operation Commands arrest tens of thousands of traitors evidence will in a blink of an eye matter.

They'll plead ignorance of the law, supervisor commanded them, they weren't aware treason is punishable by death.

They've had more than ample time to come forward and do the right thing. Many will be hanged. I'm betting most will get at least 20 to 30 years and no reduced time either for good behavior.

If you wait until Jan and evidence is ignored and the vote is certified, you are out of options. Very difficult to undo a Certification.

“ If you wait until Jan and evidence is ignored and the vote is certified, you are of options. Very difficult to undo a Certification. ”

A certification based on fraud is null and void upon its creation. Literally, it is legally null and void.

It's not null and void only after the fraud is "proven". It's already invalid the instant it was created. Proving it is simply demonstrating the fact that it was already void the instant it was created. And Trump's team has more than enough evidence to do that. Hell, we have that much here on tdw.

"Fraud vitiates everything."

▼ Yes, it looks like the Trump strategy is to present the evidence to Congress on Jan 6, and dare them to certify. Which the corrupt Congress will very likely do because the fraud evidence is not irrefutable.

I am even fine with waiting few months for irrefutable evidence to come out such that not even corrupt Judges and Senators can ignore it.

At such time we can remove the illegitimate President and hold new Elections.

Exactly. That's why I think Trump has some people that are completely loyal to him providing that evidence. FBI/CIA can cover up what they discover, but what about the evidence that HIS top secret people gather using means we don't even know about?

From here on out, I need irrefutable evidence that backs up what my government tells me to believe. If they don't provide it, then their word on the subject is just disinformation to distract from the truth and who it implicates. 30 That's ... not going to happen.

I'm sorry man, but it's not. I'd like it to happen, you'd like it, we'd all like it, but the harsh reality is that isn't going to happen.

This is a pretty decent plan. Trump has 1M+ people in the capitol. That puts pressure on Congress. He riles them up with a speech, then he puts out information that he's held close to the vest, that the media CANNOT ignore, nor can they not cover, because they're going to be covering the rally. Every media organization will be there. Even CNN. Trump is playing them by forcing their hand into covering information on the fraud.

That'll spark a super pissed off uproar and the house and senate will be paying attention. And with in your face, official reports from foreign governments and official briefs from their intelligence communities confirming it, it's really really hard to hand wave away. Trump is going to try to put so much pressure to buckle the senate/house that they'll push the vote into delegations.

It's a good plan. It's a longshot. He wants a ton of people there to discourage congress from double downing. He's using the rally as an intimidation tool. This is like ... the last hand in the poker game. Winner take all. We have to hope that he's got a royal flush.

Neither Mitch nor Nancy is in charge of the joint session on the 6th, Pence is.

It's possible if the challenge is successful and they break out into the House session that Pelosi can have some fun and games, but the Senate is Republican.

A recent report not yet verified says both the US House and the US Senate both have to vote separately to agree to throw out a State's election.

If this is 4D chess, after all the evidence is presented to the public, the Democrats either have to vote for clean elections or explain for the next umpteen years why they upheld a criminal acts.

Better that Trump gets his 2nd term.

37 This is going to be the "real" silver fox move.

As president of the join session, Silver Fox decides how the session goes. (Just like how Nasty Nancy decides how the house goes and what gets put on the agenda)

Pence sets first item on the agenda as going over fraud evidence. If meme magic is real, the evidence will specifically call out certain persons in the very same session that are compromised/illegitimate (with evidence)

You will have moderate dems voting for Trump in the contingent election in the house once it is shown Feinstein, Pelosi, Schummer and others haven't actually won an election in the last 20 years. AOC lost her primary, nearly every house seat that flipped to D in 2018 was illegitimate.

We might even see that Obama/Biden cheated in 2012 and most likely in 2008. HillDawg and Biden cheated Bernie out in 2016 and 2020.

less likely, but I think that this was why Trump's SCOTUS picks didn't vote to hear the TX case. Have you ever known Trump's counter punches to be less than or equal to the original attack? it is always a devastating escalation. 4 more years after a court case will still have an air of illegitimacy...no so much when you get dems voting for Trump in the house/senate.

Show up to DC and get ready to MAGA my dudes.

I just am certain that unless Trump has some other block buster evidence, there is no way the Senate sides with him with Senators like Mitt Romney listed as Republicans.

I also would not be surprised between now and the 6th if more congress critters on our side do not come down with "Covid-19".

The problem with this route is that he will be making a deal that all these traitors, if they vote for him, they get away with treason. Which in my view is unacceptable, because they will remain around in order to corrupt the nation again and there will not be repercussions solid enough to cause the fear of God in potential traitors.

From the Highest Senators and Representatives to their lowliest workers to every CEO, large stock holder, and employee of traitorous Media, Tech, corporate or elsewhere, Millionaires and Billionaires who supported traitors, every single last one of them should be identified, investigated, charged, tried in a military tribunal and executed as traitors based upon the evidence.

I would be fine if he made a deal with them that in exchange for their vote, he will pardon them but they can't EVER work in government again. No public office for them or anyone in their immediate, extended, and distant family. And any kickbacks and business partnerships are toast. All those earnings go back into the treasury. Honestly, whatever it takes to save us. Yes I want them punished, but if there's no other way to save the country, a deal is in order.

President Donald Trump's campaign adviser said the team is aiming to present evidence during a potential congressional debate on Jan. 6 if lawmakers in the House and Senate object to states' Electoral College votes. ✓ I

Hawley announced he would object to the electoral vote, pointing to previous Democratic efforts to do so during the 2004 and 2016 presidential elections. After the objection, an hours-long debate will occur.

Miller said that evidence could be presented in Congress, which would differ from what the Trump campaign presented in courts over the past several weeks.

"We will have a chance in front of the American people, next week to present these cases, all these evidences of fraud," Miller told Newsmax, pointing to a lawsuit filed by Rep. Louie Gohmert (R-Texas) against Vice President Mike Pence earlier this week to prevent him from confirming Joe Biden's electoral victory. Miller told the outlet that the 1887 Electoral Count Act allows the vice president, who is the president of the Senate, to preside over the Joint Session of Congress.

Then, Miller told Newsmax that he hopes at least one senator and representative join together to object to the Electoral College vote, allowing for two hours of debate.

Should that happen, Miller said President Donald Trump's team is seeking to present alleged evidence of voter fraud or irregularities in the Nov. 3 election, including law changes regarding mail-in ballots in Wisconsin, "suitcases of ballots" in Georgia being wheeled out late at night on Nov. 3 in Atlanta's State Farm Center, and being blocked in Arizona and Michigan from inspecting voting systems, alleging that ballots were counted several times.

"These are the specific types of evidence we want to present to the American people on the national stage and not allow local politicians to sweep it under the rug," Miller said.

Weeks ago, Trump's team led by Rudy Giuliani presented a surveillance video from the State Farm Center that showed suitcase-like boxes being wheeled from under a table. It came after election officials allegedly told other workers and poll observers that counting was done for the night.

The Georgia GOP said they received conflicting and incorrect answers and statements from Fulton County officials about what happened on Election Night, and officials later acknowledged that vote-counting went on until the early-morning hours. State election officials, in response to the video, said nothing unusual occurred with the ballot boxes and vote-tabulation process in Fulton County.

Elaborating on Wisconsin, he said, "Article II of the Constitution makes it very clear, the state legislatures, and state legislatures alone, set up the voting systems for each state, the codes and the way they are conducted." He said, "And what we have here is we have over 20,000 ballots that were cast without actually having an application on file, the mail ballots. Wisconsin's very clear, very specific you got to have an application on file."

These rules are passed with likely only a plurality vote of Congress.

These rules can and must be maliable due to this important violation of article IV Section 4 of the Constitution, the guarantee by the Federal Government of a republican form of GOV'T in each state. If Trump's votes are thrown out, proven, and many many more fake votes are given to Biden, proven, well then we have a real real big Constitutional problem.

These congressional rules are separate from and don't have the same weight as the Constitution. where every Amendment needed 2/3rds of the State to pass it.

▼ No.

1.) You can't arrest a sitting member of the house or senate while in session/on the floor.

No doors are getting kicked in. You're there to apply pressure on congress by being there, supporting the president and for forcing main stream media to report the rally and by proxy the evidence Trump wants to present.

That's your function. Plain and simple.
